Dear Mr. Shah:

As you know, New York Water Management was retained by your firm to audit, identify, file and recover any potential real estate tax credits, refunds and/or savings from the Department of Finance. After reviewing the above mentioned property, we determined that there was in fact a potential error. Accordingly, we immediately filed a case to regarding the J-51 benefits.

After ample correspondence and negotiations with the Department of Finance, we were notified that our claim was going to be approved. The real estate tax adjustments from the Department of Finance have been posted to your account, and all necessary corrections have been made.

Total retroactive adjustments for tax years 2003/04-2009/10 are in the amount of $1,767,739.59.

As per agreement: New York Water Management is billing Delshah Capital as follows:

Retroactive Savings: Delshah Capital will pay a discounted rate of thirty percent (30%) of the total retroactive savings ( $$1,767,739.59 * 30\% = $530,321.87$ )
